ECHOES FROM CUCKOO LAND.

Stand up there, Amos Cummings,
And Slickies, here's our hand!
You've made ourselves a record
The people understand.
You have not stooped for favor,
For have you stultified
Your manhood and your office,
For Presidential pride.

You did not hide like cowards,
But voted straight, like men,
And if there were occasion
Would vote that way again.
You've set a grand example;
We do not bow the knee
To sycophants in this country,
Or thrones beyond the sea.

THE TURNPIKE WAR.

Kentucky's Poet Laureate Turns His Guns on Colonel Baldwin.

The battle waged on the outside by Colonel W. W. Baldwin, the turnpike magnate of this county, against the passage by the Legislature of a bill to regulate tolls on such roads, and the fight on the inside by Senator Goebel, the author of the bill, have become a subject of interest to Senators, and one to which Henry T. Stanton has turned his versatile poetic genius.

Senator Weissinger, to whom the production was shown, captured it and gravely introduced and read it to the Senate as follows:

S. B. 1001—An act to establish "a Board to declare the treatment of Baldwin by Goebel unfair."

Be it enacted, etc., etc.—Section 1—That Sylvester and Weller and Martin, H. L. And Gardner and Landies and Fulton and Neil, Are hereby appointed a Board to declare the treatment of Baldwin by Goebel unfair; That these, and such others as Alford may call, Shall take up the facts and report on them all.

Section 2—In the matter of tolls to be fixed and maintained On all of the roads where old Baldwin has reigned.

The Board shall be prudent and not make a row On what has been done by exposing it now. It must do the clean thing, and permit the old man To gather his shingles wherever he can. His gates may be many, his roads may be rough. But the Board should reflect he is out for the stuff; And surely its voice should be loud to declare The treatment of Baldwin by Goebel unfair.

Section 3—Concerning the taxes and every such ill That Goebel gets up to astonish old "Bill," The Board should be honest and careful to see That from such annoyance old Baldwin is free. It should view him and guard him as one of a set— With nothing to pay and a pile to collect. It should do all of this and be prompt to declare The treatment of Baldwin by Goebel unfair.

Section 4—On all of the roads that he owns and he leases, The actions of Baldwin should be as he pleases. Be it turnpike or gravel, asphaltum or plank, On high grade or level, or by-way or bank, His books should be left to the dust of his shelf. With none to disturb them excepting himself. He should make no report, and no one should see The figures that show what his income may be; The Board should respect him, and loudly declare The treatment of Baldwin by Goebel unfair.

Section 5—If toll be demands in excess of fixed rates, It's no study of the state's—let it be a state's. And should his expenses be little or large, It's only a matter within his own charge; And as for reports in the month of July— That's a matter of moonshine and "all in my eye." And though he's accustomed to lawsuits and strife, He never lost one in the whole of his life; So, therefore, the Board should be free to declare The treatment of Baldwin by Goebel unfair.

Section 6—But further enacted, As Baldwin insists, A real emergency herein exists, And this little bill, in contempt of the masses, Should have its effect just as soon as it passes; And this little Board should be prompt to declare The treatment of Baldwin by Goebel unfair.

FULL OF ROMANCE

Were Giddy Girls Who Set Out to Get a Husband.

The following suggestive letter was found by a gentleman in Limestone creek yesterday afternoon in a small catsup bottle:

Kind Gentlemen: When you find this precious bottle and read the contents there you will grant us a great favor by seeing that we all get a correspondent. We are all very romantic. That is the reason we have condescended to put our names in a catsup bottle so we can catch up for we are far behind the other young ladies in the matrimony market. Dear gents don't think we are bold or forward in writing this to you for we assure you we are all meek and humble maidens, so if you will please grant our request you will receive our earthly gratitude. From the GIRLS.

To this note was signed the names of six prominent and well known young ladies of Maysville—evidently placed there by some one who belongs to the large class of "Smart Alecks."

OUR CHURCH COLUMN.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN THE HOUSES OF WORSHIP.

A Beautiful Poem By "Regular Attendant." Some Newsy Notes and a General Program of Tomorrow's Services Throughout the City.

If persons who are disinclined to be religious Would come and hear the Rev. E. B. Calk, Very, very soon indeed their opinions A different form would take, And most surely for their own Everlasting salvation's sake A quiet and simple confession Before men they soon would make.

For all must admit that the Gospel of Christ, To the believer, Is the power of God unto salvation; And certain it is that no people on earth Can be saved in any other fashion. Thus it is that it's this and this alone which shall bring All people to one persuasion, And then happily unite as One grand and glorious Nation.

Come then one and all and we will Give you a hearty greeting, Right in the presence of the vast assembly At our regular meeting. And thus you can be fully assured to find A pleasing and positive satisfaction to your mind.

Then try the experiment on, and you will never, never regret The honored day in which you resolved to take the step. The race of life will then be an easy one to run, And grand and beautiful shall be the day when the victory is won.

—Regular Attendant.

IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

The Notorious Dr. Charles F. Hera and Mrs. Kate Hera.

The Coroner of Cincinnati has decided that a girl named Myrtle Parker died from the results of a criminal operation. She died in a hospital kept by one Kate Hera, and the only persons in attendance at the time were Dr. Charles F. Hera and Mrs. Kate Hera.

The evidence taken was turned over to the Prosecuting Attorney.

Dr. Hera's home is said to be in New Richmond. Some time ago he married a very estimable young lady of Maysville and took her to New Richmond.

There he deserted her, and it is said that no divorce has ever been secured.

The young wife has for months past been compelled to support herself by sewing and at times has been in a needy condition.

NERVE DEATHS.

THE NUMBER GROWING AT A FRIGHTFUL RATE.

The Proportion Has Increased 20 Per Cent. in Forty Years—The Boston Journal Asks, "What the Remedy?" And Finds the Answer Not a Hard One—A Quarter of all Deaths Due to American Disease.

The Boston Journal is certainly to be admired.

One of Boston's greatest newspapers, it frankly devotes some of its energetic editorial space to the subject, which at this season is of more importance to this and every community than all other topics.

"One hears the voice of the man whose knowledge of nerves is almost unbounded," says The Journal, "saying that beyond any dispute nervousness is growing upon us at a frightful rate."

Quoting from Dr. Wier Mitchell it continues: "In some busy centers he finds that the number of deaths due to nervous causes has increased 20 per cent. in forty years; that one-fourth of the deaths now are from nervous diseases. His opinion is very confident, too, that the Americans are, from this cause, become a short-lived people."

A clear statement of the nervous weakness among the dwellers in cities and towns would send a pang of horror and alarm through the country.

Women are more under the influence of this terrible scourge than men; and town dwellers more than country folk.

The Journal asks what is the remedy, and finds the answer readily.

Hundreds of tired mothers, anxious housewives, school-teachers and too ambitious scholars—the very flower of American womanhood—yield to the strain of the serious affairs of life. Overwork and unnatural worry condemn a host of American women to spend their after years on a sofa or in a sick room, and to be a burden instead of a help to those who are dearest to them.

Oftentimes excruciating pains as in neuralgia, rheumatism and heart trouble, but more often (especially in the spring) "that tired feeling" is nature's cry for better nutrition in order to resist the fearful strain on the nerve and vital organs. The remedy is known to every physician and to thousands who have been benefited by it. Men and women who find themselves getting irritable, nervous, thin, "run down" and ailing should take Paine's Celery Compound. It feeds tired, exhausted nerves, stores the blood with food for the wasted tissues, and purifies it of the impure humors which result from its stagnant, unhealthy condition.

Nothing has ever equaled Paine's Celery Compound for giving tone to the stomach and a renewed appetite. It strikes to the root of rheumatism, neuralgia, diseases of the heart, the liver, kidneys, and all disorders due to poor, thin blood, and underfed nerves. Poor appetite, continual headaches, loss of strength, nervous debility, and a scrofulous, unhealthy condition of the skin at this season are sure signs of nervous weakness.

Paine's Celery Compound will rob one of the "run down" feeling, the languor and despondency that come from badly nourished nerves, thin, pale blood, and underfed organs of the body.

New life, a buoyant feeling, and the joyousness of health will come when plenty of good red blood begins to fill the arteries and invigorate the system.

This is just what Paine's Celery Compound is doing for thousands of tired men and women throughout the whole extent of the country.

It must be a good article that will induce a man to go forty miles to get it. E. R. Sweetman of Fairfax Station, says a party came forty miles to his store for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and bought a dozen bottles. "The remedy is a great favorite in this vicinity," he says, "and has performed some wonderful cures here." It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping-cough. For sale by Theo. C. Power, Druggist.

THREE days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism; but it can be done, if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following from James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ill.: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today and would insist on every one who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50 cent bottles for sale by Theo. C. Power, Druggist.
